Hi, We're Justin & Jo.

We're a husband and wife team, in love with capturing love, in all its real and beautiful forms. We're all about preserving those unforgettable moments and creating lasting memories for you.

We believe wedding photography should feel like a friendly partnership, not just a service. Our goal is to be more like friends than photographers, so you can focus on enjoying your day with loved ones while we effortlessly snap those precious moments.

Our story started back in 2016, Justin was studying film at AFDA, and Jo had just started an internship at a graphic design agency. We both had a passion for photo and video, and spent time capturing our friends and family, while working to start our own business together. After second shooting many, many events, we started photographing weddings together (after our own wedding) in 2018, and have been in love with telling love stories ever since.
